

Why Donate to the Library

As the educational cornerstone to the entire community, the library offers resources, materials, and educational programming to all ages, free of charge.

The Huntley Area Public Library:

- Offers educational opportunities to children, teens and adults through programming and events, and seasonal reading programs
- Provides access to online resources such as eBooks, educational tutoring, job search assistance, genealogy research, online classes, language learning, and much more
- Provides access to free enrichment and leisure programs and materials
- Enhances traditional library services with new technology and the training to use it

By donating to the Creating a Legacy Fund, you help secure the future of the library for generations to come.

Creating A Legacy

"As a member of this community, I feel it is my duty and pleasure to support and work for a library for our future generations."
Hazel Kloempken,
May 27, 1988

In Honor of Hazel Kloempken

In 1988 the population of Huntley numbered about 2500, and a small group of residents decided it was time to establish a library. One of the leaders was Hazel Kloempken, a long time Huntley resident.

Since this time the population of the area and demands on the library have grown, and today the library serves more than 39,000 residents. In 2009 for the twentieth anniversary of the library district the Legacy Fund was established in Hazel's honor.
